Samford University

Mission

Samford University nurtures persons in their development of intellect, creativity, faith and personhood. As a Christian university, the community fosters academic, career and ethical competency while encouraging social and civic responsibility, and service to others.

Core Values

The Samford community values lifelong:

- belief in God, the Creator of the heaven and earth, and in Jesus Christ, his only Son, our Lord
- engagement with the life and teachings of Jesus
- learning and responsible freedom of inquiry
- personal empowerment, accountability and responsibility
- vocational success and civic engagement
- spiritual growth and cultivation of physical well-being
- integrity, honesty and justice
- appreciation for diverse cultures and convictions
- stewardship of all resources
- service to God, to family, to one another and to the community

Vision

Anchored in Christian understanding, Samford University will be a diverse community, stressing vigorous learning and personal faith, in the Baptist tradition. Within that commonality, the community will be innovative in teaching, learning and research; sensitive to global issues; aggressive in self-assessment and continuous improvement. Faithful to its mission, Samford will be known and acknowledged worldwide by holding to its core values. The world will be better for it.

Honor Pledge

I believe that the members of the Samford community possess dignity and are worthy of honor. I understand that honoring others fosters academic achievement, personal growth and spiritual development. I commit to hold myself and my peers to the standards of conduct and academic integrity maintained by the university. To this, I pledge my sacred honor.

Strategic Plan

Samford is casting its eyes to the future with the launch of its next comprehensive strategic plan, "Fidelitas: Faith and Future." The new plan was unanimously adopted by the Samford Board of Trustees in December 2023.

The new strategic plan is aligned along eight themes:

- Academic Distinction
- Student Engagement
- Employee Elevation
- Faith Formation
- Community Celebration
- Athletic Success
- Financial Stewardship
- Global Influence

Samford University

Narratives

Short Version

Samford is one of the country's leading Christian universities and offers undergraduate and graduate programs grounded in the liberal arts with an array of nationally recognized graduate and professional schools.

Medium Version

Samford is one of the country's leading Christian universities and offers undergraduate programs grounded in the liberal arts with an array of nationally recognized graduate and professional schools. Founded in 1841, Samford is the 87th-oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. Samford enrolls 5,791 students from 49 states, Puerto Rico and 16 countries in its 10 academic schools: arts, arts and sciences, business, divinity, education, health professions, law, nursing, pharmacy, and public health. Samford fields 17 athletic teams that compete in the tradition-rich Southern Conference, and ranks sixth nationally for its Graduation Success Rate among all NCAA Division I schools.

Long Version

Samford is one of the country's leading Christian universities and offers undergraduate programs grounded in the liberal arts with an array of nationally recognized graduate and professional programs through 10 academic schools: arts, arts and sciences, business, divinity, education, health professions, law, nursing, pharmacy and public health. Founded in 1841, Samford is the 87th-oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. It enrolls 5,791 students from 49 states, Puerto Rico and 16 countries. Samford is regularly recognized as one of the best Christian universities in the United States, receiving high marks for academic quality and value.

Among Samford's 57,062 alumni have included more than 60 members of the U.S. Congress, eight state governors, two U.S. Supreme Court justices, one Secretary of State, four Rhodes Scholars, multiple Emmy and Grammy award-winning artists, two national championship football coaches, and recipients of the Pulitzer and Nobel Peace prizes.

The university fields 17 varsity sports—eight men's and nine women's—that participate at the NCAA Division I level in the Southern Conference. Samford's athletic teams earned a 98% Graduation Success Rate by the NCAA, ranking sixth among all Division I universities in the nation, along with an impressive group of peer institutions.

Institutional Profile

Samford University is a leading nationally ranked Christian university. Founded in 1841, Samford is the 87th-oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. Located in the Birmingham, Alabama suburb of Homewood, the university's campus covers approximately 247 acres and is renowned for its beauty and Georgian-Colonial style architecture. The university currently enrolls 5,791 students from 49 states, Puerto Rico and 16 countries. Samford is regularly recognized as one of the best Christian universities in the United States, receiving high marks for academic quality and value.

Samford offers undergraduate programs grounded in the liberal arts and a distinct blend of graduate and professional schools through 10 academic schools: arts, arts and sciences, business, divinity, education, health professions, law, nursing, pharmacy, and public health. The university has one of three accredited law schools and one of only two accredited pharmacy schools in Alabama. Samford's Beeson Divinity School is the only fully accredited graduate divinity school based in Alabama. The university is classified by the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education as a doctoral/professional institution and the student-to-faculty ratio is 14:1.

Samford's mission to nurture student development intellectually, ethically and spiritually is fostered through an array of opportunities, including 170 student organizations, global engagement in more than 14 different countries and dozens of courses that incorporate community service. Additionally, undergraduate students complete Samford's core curriculum, providing a well-rounded foundation in the liberal arts. The result is a highly-tailored educational experience that results in 97% of undergraduate alumni employed or in further study within six months of graduation.

Samford launched its next comprehensive strategic plan in December 2022. The plan, "Fidelitas: Faith and Future," is aligned along eight themes: academic distinction, student engagement, employee elevation, faith formation, community celebration, athletic success, financial stewardship and global influence. Samford maintains a strong endowment with investments totaling $430.5 million (September 2023), which helps support scholarships, study abroad opportunities, general operations and other programs. In addition to the main campus in Homewood, the university owns a house in Marion, Alabama, used for cultural study and service, and the Daniel House, a study center located in the heart of London, England, near Kensington Park.

Samford has 57,062 alumni living in all 50 states and 62 foreign countries. The university's alumni have included more than 60 members of the U.S. Congress, eight state governors, two U.S. Supreme Court justices, one U.S. Secretary of State, four Rhodes Scholars, multiple Emmy and Grammy award-winning artists, two national championship football coaches, and recipients of the Pulitzer and Nobel Peace prizes.

The university fields 17 intercollegiate sports—eight men's and nine women's—that participate at the NCAA Division I level. The Samford Bulldogs have won 74 conference championships since joining the Southern Conference in 2008. Samford's athletic teams earned a 98% Graduation Success Rate (GSR) by the NCAA, ranking sixth among all Division I universities in the nation. Samford has a long history of performing among the nation's elite universities for its combination of excellence in academic and athletic performance and has consistently earned an overall GSR above 90% since 2012.

Samford Messaging Guide

ESTABLISHED LEADER

Powerful and assertive, driven by growth and being an industry leader.

Samford's character is rooted in strength and leadership.

Samford's 182-year history is one of academic excellence and leadership. As a private, Christian institution, we remain firmly rooted in our identity and mission while continually expanding educational opportunities and experiences for our students. Samford increases its influence by graduating students capable of addressing the profound challenges facing today's society. Samford's strong character positions us as a place of hope and as a guiding light for future generations of thoughtful leaders.

CLASSIC INSPIRER

Beautiful and refined, driven by experience, sophistication and beauty in all forms.

Samford's distinctive beauty inspires excellence.

At Samford, the beauty of God's creation that surrounds us inspires us to be our best selves. Beauty is found on our nationally recognized campus. It's in the architecture of our traditional brick buildings and our modern learning spaces. It's in the lush greenery of our 247-acre campus of rolling, tree-covered hills. Most importantly, beauty is found, and nurtured, within the hearts and minds of our students. Our learning environment enriches the spiritual, intellectual and social development of our community members. We manifest the beauty found at Samford by restoring hope to a broken world.

LOYAL SHEPHERD

Supportive and selfless, driven by compassion, warmth and the desire to care for others.

Samford builds strong, lasting relationships.

Samford is a welcoming and caring community. Christ's love and selfless example compel our culture of service and compassion. Community service, campus fellowship and classroom learning encourage us to focus our gifts on a world in need. Relationships develop and strengthen through research opportunities and scholarly collaboration between Samford faculty and students, and between Samford faculty and their colleagues around the world.

School of the Arts

Interim Dean: Lance Beaumont, DMA

Established: 1915

Enrollment (Fall 2023): 491

Specialized Accreditation: National Association of Schools of Music (NASM), Council for Interior Design Accreditation (CIDA) and National Association of Schools of Theatre (NAST)

School of the Arts Overview

The School of the Arts is comprised of:

- Department of Art & Design with programs in studio art, graphic design, and game design and 3D animation.
- Department of Architecture & Interior Design with a degree in interior design and a five-year accelerated Master of Architecture degree.
- Department of Theatre and Dance with degrees in musical theatre, theatre, production design and technology, theatre for youth, and a minor in dance. Each year, students participate in 6-8 mainstage performances.
- Division of Music with degrees in commercial music, composition, music education, music and worship, and performance. It hosts more than 150 student, faculty and guest artist events annually.
- Department of Christian Ministry with a major and two minors for students committed to ministry and disciple-making.

Recent Highlights

- At the 2023 state chapter of the International Interior Design Association Design Award celebration, several Samford alumni faculty and students received awards. This included special recognition to Jim Griffo, adjunct professor in Architecture & Interior Design. Griffo was recognized for being among IIDA International's first Emeritus Class, a designation awarded to 19 of the institute's 15,000 members.
- Samford University and Miles College developed the MISA Collaborative as a cultural partnership. Initiatives have included a joint play, a mural project and an urban redevelopment plan.
- The Samford University A Cappella Choir swept the top awards at the CantaRode International Choir Festival in the Netherlands. With a score of 95 points out of 100, they won first place among 13 choirs. They also won two other significant awards: the "Audience Award" and "Best Conductor" for professor Philip Copeland, who has led the A Cappella Choir since 2010.

Mission

The School of the Arts prepares today's artist to shape tomorrow's world by inspiring artistry, promoting scholarship and realizing professionalism as we serve the community in the spirit of Christ.

Student Highlights

- The School of the Arts' building, Buchanan Hall, completed a transformative 18-month renovation in Spring 2022, including the addition of a brand-new recording studio. The studio has given students the opportunity to mix and create music from scratch.
- Several students in the commercial music program will be releasing singles and EPs completely recorded in the new studio! The first student to release her song was sophomore, Kacie Bell.
- Piano performance and pedagogy major at Samford, Allison Frederick, was nationally selected as one of six teaching assistants at Interlochen Arts Camp, one of the most prestigious music camps in the world.
- Recent graduate of interior design, Joe Turner, collaborated with Crate & Barrel to be one of their featured artists. Turner has also had his work featured in the Architectural Digest Iconic Home, which was a virtual show home in 2021 sponsored by the publication.

School of the Arts Extension Programs

- The Academy of the Arts enrolls approximately 1,200 Birmingham area residents of all ages annually in arts enrichment programs and serves as a teaching lab for Samford students.
- The Department of Christian Ministry is home to the Ministry Training Institute, which serves over 1,500 individuals in the ministerial community annually and included 44 extension locations.

Beeson Divinity School

Dean: Douglas A. Sweeney, PhD

Established: 1988

Enrollment (Fall 2023): 125

Specialized Accreditation: Association of Theological Schools (ATS)

Mission

The mission of Beeson Divinity School is to prepare God-called persons to serve as ministers in the church of Jesus Christ. We accomplish this by providing face-to-face, classical graduate theological education, worshiping the triune God and encouraging the practices of Christian spirituality in covenanted community.

Distinctions

- More than 20+ Protestant denominations are represented among the faculty, staff and students.
- Divinity faculty believe theological education happens best face to face, and the student body is kept small (under 200 students) by design. The faculty-to-student ratio is 1:7. Every student takes part in a weekly faculty-led mentor group. Students, faculty and staff worship together every Tuesday and then share a common meal.
- The Global Center allows divinity students to participate in global Christianity by sending equipped divinity students into every part of the world and by hosting speakers from around the world. Every MDiv student is required to participate in a cross-cultural ministry experience.
- 100% of full-time master's degree students receive scholarship assistance.
- The divinity school hosts three annual lectures: Biblical Studies Lectures, William E. Conger Jr. Lectures on Biblical Preaching and Reformation Heritage Lectures.
- Numerous divinity school faculty members published books recently, including Gordon Bals (Common Ground: Understanding God's Redemption in Marriage, updated), Gerald Bray (A Companion to the Book of Common Prayer), Joshua Chatraw (The Augustine Way and Surprised by Doubt), Mark Gigniliat (The Prophets and the Apostolic Witness: Reading Isaiah, Jeremiah, and Ezekiel as Christian Scripture — contributor), Jonathan Linebaugh (The New Perspective on Grace: Paul and the Gospel after Paul and the Gift), Robert Smith Jr. (Exalting Jesus in Joshua), Douglas A. Sweeney (The Substance of Our Faith: Foundations for the History of Christian Doctrine), Frank Thielman (Paul's Letter to the Romans) and Doug Webster (The Psalms: Jesus' Prayer Book and Pastoral Identity)
- The divinity school offers three certificates to those MDiv students who complete the requirements: Anglican studies, missions and Wesleyan studies.
- The divinity school's Andrew Gerow Hodges Chapel was consecrated as a hallowed place of worship in 1995 and is dedicated to the glory of the living Triune God for the service of his church and the furtherance of his kingdom. This chapel is spoken of as "A Sermon in Stone" for its gospel witness through sacred art and architecture to the Samford community, the greater Birmingham community and the far-reaching places of the world.
- The Institute of Anglican Studies at Beeson Divinity School builds the Anglican Communion by helping educate students and the public in the riches of the Anglican tradition.
- The Robert Smith Jr. Preaching Institute at Beeson Divinity School exists to serve and strengthen the whole person in relation to God, the church, other preachers and the world for faithful proclamation of God's Word. It seeks to do this by increasing knowledge and understanding as a preacher, deepening formation as a Christian and preacher, and strengthening competence and skill in the practice of preaching. The Lilly Endowment Inc. awarded Samford a $1.2 million grant for The Spirit and Power Preaching Project, which will be coordinated by the Robert Smith Jr. Preaching Institute. The project will offer opportunities for both divinity students and undergraduate students to improve their preaching, as well as offering opportunities to sharpen those who are already preaching.
- The Thriving Pastors Initiative at Beeson Divinity School aims to help pastors thrive in congregational leadership by improving the quality of relationships pastors have with one another. It is funded by a $1 million grant from the Lilly Endowment Inc.
- Beeson's Lay Academy of Theology provides continuing education for ministers and laity taught by Beeson faculty.
- The Center for Women in Ministry at Beeson exists to encourage and equip women called to Christian ministry and to serve as a resource for the church of Jesus Christ for the edification of the church and for the thriving of women in ministry.
- The divinity school has established three new alumni fellowships in Birmingham, Atlanta and Nashville. The purpose of these fellowships is to support the lives and ministries of Beeson graduates and to help recruit future Beeson students.
- Timothy George, Distinguished Professor of Divinity, is president of the Evangelical Theological Society.
